Volunteer Time Requirements:

Pre-Trip: All accepted applicants are expected to participate in the scheduled Orientation.

Orientation materials sent beforehand provide information that answer most questions you may have, including what you need to do pre-trip, where you will be staying and working, what to bring, etc. Flight options and travel plans as well as expenses and fund raising are also discussed.

Traveling: All team members are expected to arrive in the country within the assigned time so that everyone can clear customs within the designated 24 hour time period. Persons wishing to add "tourist" time to their mission should do so after the mission and never before the mission. We need every team member to carry mission supplies to the country, so you need to go through customs with the Global Health team when Health Office officials are there specifically for our team. Also, you need to arrive at the final destination to be with the team on transport arranged for the team.

Responsibility for Finances and Supplies – Do not let cost keep you from applying. Some grant funding is available. Also, we provide fundraising ideas and materials to help volunteers raise funds.

Orientation materials include a list of medications and supplies needed for the mission. EVERY team member is asked to help acquire these supplies and to report them to GHM's Program Manager as they are obtained.

Volunteers are expected to cover costs (via personal donation, fundraising/ sponsorship):

PROJECTED COST PER VOLUNTEER: (Note: Peru involves 2 separate flights: US-Lima + Lima to Piura in the North)

*Program Costs: Paid to GHM: covers, housing, food, ground transport, security, travel insurance, and a contribution toward the cost of medical services provided to our patients, including follow-up care.

Airfare Costs are based on current rates and are fairly unpredictable – Cost depends on your home base.

Additional Personal Expenses vary per person covering: meals during international travel, Day Off expenses, laundry expense, and personal purchases.

COMMITMENT STATEMENT:

If selected as a team member, I agree to contribute/help fund raise to cover these expenses and also assist Global Health in acquiring the medicines, and supplies required for our mission.
